

Josh Miller, Director, D J Willrich Ltd.

"We have worked with Vizbox on a number of challenging projects, in most instances we are installing high value projectors into harsh environments. This has usually been within historic buildings with little or no environmental control, ranging from Mill Buildings, to Stables to an Underground Rail Platform.

In each instance Vizbox have engaged fully with the DJW team and discussed all of the potential risks to the hardware and proposed a range of solutions. Having agreed upon the solution Vizbox have efficiently and professionally worked through the stages of design approval, production and delivery.

Our experience working with Vizbox has been very positive and we will certainly be working with them again, when the next challenging installation arises."

